Section V – Retiring Pension

56.

A retiring pension is granted to an employee who retires voluntarily after 20 years of qualifying service subject to the following conditions:—

- (i) He shall give notice in writing to the appointing authority or the pension sanctioning authority of his intention to retire at least three months before the date on which he wishes to retire:

Provided that the employee may make a request in writing to the appointing authority to accept notice of less than three months giving reasons therefor. On receipt of such request the appointing authority may consider it for the curtailment of the period of notice of three months on merits and if it is satisfied that the curtailment of the period of notice will not cause any administrative inconvenience the appointing authority may relax the requirement of notice of three months on the condition that the employee shall not apply for commutation of a part of his pension before the expiry of the period of notice of three months.

dated 19-11-1981]

- (ii) If the retirement of the employee takes place while on leave not due, the retirement shall be effective from the date of commencement of leave and the leave salary paid, if any, shall be recovered either from the death-cum-retirement gratuity payable to him or otherwise;
- (iii) The person retiring voluntarily should make sure before applying for retirement that he has put in 20 years of qualifying service. The rounding of qualifying service prescribed in rule 57 is not permissible at this stage;
- (iv) Voluntary retirement of an employee shall become effective on the grant of permission to retire by the authority competent to make appointment to the post:

Provided that where the authority competent to make appointment to the post does not refuse to grant permission for retirement before the date on which the employee wishes to retire specified in the notice under clause (i), the retirement shall become effective from the date specified in the notice;

- (v) Permission to retire shall be given in all cases except those in which disciplinary proceedings are pending for imposition of a major penalty or the disciplinary authority, having regard to the circumstances of the cases is of the view that the imposition of the penalty of removal or dismissal from service would be warranted or in which prosecution is contemplated, or may have been launched in a Court of Law against the officer;
- (vi) Cases in which permission cannot be given by the appointing authority shall be referred to Government intimating the fact to the person concerned, before the date specified in the notice as the date on which the employee desires to retire;
- (vii) The actual periods of qualifying service as on the intended date of retirement of the Government Servant shall be increased by a period not exceeding 5 years subject to the conditions that the total qualifying service after allowing the weightage shall not exceed 30 years in cases of retirements prior to 1-7-1978 and 33 years in respect of retirements occurring on or after 1-7-1978 and the weightage shall not exceed the difference between the age of superannuation and that as on the date on which the voluntary retirement becomes effective. Fraction, if any, in the qualifying service so arrived at shall be rounded to the nearest completed year, that is, fraction of less than half year shall be ignored and half year and above shall be rounded to the next completed year;
- (viii) No notional fixation of pay shall be permissible on the basis of the qualifying service as increased under clause (vii);
- (ix) The amount of pension granted for the qualifying service as increased under clause (vii) shall be subject to the provisions of rules 2,3 and 59;
- (x) Government Servant shall be permitted to encash the leave at credit as on the date of request for voluntary retirement and / or to enter on eligible leave due (except leave not due) [* and Commuted leave] after applying for voluntary retirement. His salary for the period of admissible leave shall be calculated on the basis of the pay drawn by him immediately prior to the commencement of leave;
- (xi) This rule shall not apply to an employee who seeks voluntary retirement from Government service for being absorbed permanently in an autonomous body or a public sector undertaking.

*Note.—Government may also require an employee to retire any time after he has completed 30 years qualifying service provided that the appropriate authority shall give, in this behalf a notice in writing to the employee, at least three months before the date on which he is required to retire or three months pay and allowances in lieu of such notice.

This amendment takes effect on and from 26-6-1978.

Government Decision

- (i) As the Government servant concerned will retire immediately on payment of pay and allowances in lieu of notice, he would be entitled to pension from the date of such retirement and the pension shall not be deferred till after the expiry of the period of three months for which he is paid pay and allowances. In other words, pay and allowances given in lieu of the notice period would be in addition to pension for the said period.
- (ii) The Government Servants who are given pay and allowances in lieu of the notice period are entitled to House Rent Allowance and other allowances at the rates at which they were drawing the allowances immediately before retirement subject to the certificates prescribed in the relevant rules for the purpose of grant of such allowances.
- (iii) The payment of pay and allowances in lieu of the notice period should be made simultaneously with the order of retirement.
- (iv) The pay and allowances to be given in lieu of the notice period would be the pay and allowances, drawn by him immediately before retirement. Since he would stand retired immediately on payment of pay and allowances, the question of taking into consideration the date of increment does not arise.
- (v) The three months' pay and allowances given in lieu of notice are "Salary" and therefore, income tax is required to be deducted.
- (vi) The Government servant would stand retired immediately on payment of three months' pay and allowances in lieu of the notice period and will not be in service thereafter. Therefore, the question of counting any period subsequent to the date of such retirement for purposes of pension etc., does not arise.
