Human-Wildlife Conflict Reduction and Mitigation Plan

1. Executive summary

A. Context & Purpose

Recognizing that addressing Human-Wildlife Conflict (HWC) must transcend administrative boundaries, the Human-Wildlife Conflict Reduction and Mitigation Plan adopts a transition from isolated, conflict area-level management to a contiguous, ecosystem-based landscape approach. Human-Wildlife Conflict (HWC) presents multidimensional challenges across Kerala, necessitating a shift from generalized protective measures to highly customized, location-specific interventions. Accordingly, this initiative mandates the preparation of comprehensive, evidence-based Human-Wildlife Conflict Reduction and Mitigation Plans for 14 identified conflict-prone landscapes across the State.

B. The Landscape Paradigm:

The 14 landscapes represent diverse ecological, social, and economic conditions. By treating these areas as contiguous units rather than isolated forest patches, the plans aim to balance regional human livelihoods with long-term wildlife coexistence.

C. Administrative Directive:

The plans were prepared by landscape-level teams led by Divisional Forest Officers (DFOs), Wildlife Wardens, and Deputy Directors, who collaborated across territorial and wildlife divisions to develop a single, unified plan for each landscape. The draft plans underwent multiple rounds of review and refinement through meetings chaired by the Head of Forest Force and Chief Wildlife Warden, with the participation of other senior officers. Subsequently, the plans were further deliberated upon and adapted to local conditions through consultations with Local Self-Government Institutions (LSGIs).

3. Summary of Core Document Sections

Following a unified and mandated framework, each landscape plan details the following six components:

A. Landscape Introduction & Baseline Data

- Geographical & Socio-Economic Profile: Broad overview of boundaries, range/station divisions, adjacent human habitations, and the specific agricultural crops most impacted by wildlife.
- Conflict Assessment: Identification of prioritized conflict species, analysis of behavioral/movement patterns, statistical data on crop damage, livestock predation, human casualties, and underlying drivers (habitat fragmentation, resource scarcity, and seasonality).
- Existing Baseline: Evaluation of the effectiveness of pre-existing mitigation structures and local community perceptions of conflict.

B. Mapping

Each plan has high-accuracy geographic maps covering:

- Forest & mitigation Infrastructure: Forest division boundaries overlaid with human habitations and current physical barriers (e.g., Solar Powered Fencing, trenches).
- Civic Jurisdictions: Clearly demarcated conflict-prone Panchayaths and Legislative Assembly Constituencies.

- Species Hotspots: Individualized conflict maps for major species (elephants, tigers, leopards, wild boars, etc.) accounting for seasonal shifts.

- Ecological Overlays: Land-use patterns and active wildlife movement/migration corridors.

C. Dual-Layered Mitigation Strategies

- Front-End (Immediate Relief): Raising Rapid Response Teams (RRTs) and Primary Response Teams (PRTs); setting up early-warning systems and community WhatsApp alert networks; installing physical or hanging solar fences; fast-tracking compensation.
- Back-End (Long-Term Solutions): Habitat restoration (invasive weed removal like Lantana, waterhole and marshy grassland management); land-use zoning to create buffer areas; identifying wildlife release sites; and implementing community-based conservation.

D. Health & Veterinary Infrastructure Matrix

- Human Care: Assessment of Primary Health Centres in conflict-prone panchayaths, specifically checking anti-venom availability for snake-bites.
- Animal Care: Evaluation of veterinary staff, mobile units, emergency communication protocols, and temporary holding centers or rescue units for captured/injured wildlife.

E. Line Department & Institutional Roles

To prevent the Forest Department from working in isolation, a clear matrix of responsibilities is outlined:

- Forest & Veterinary: Wildlife conflict management, containment, and post-capture medical care.
- Agriculture & Revenue: Advising on crop protection, alternative livelihoods, and processing damage claims.
- Local Bodies, Police & Health: Driving on-ground awareness (via local groups like Jan Jagratha Samithi), public safety enforcement, and managing human injuries.
- SDMA, Fire & Rescue: Disaster relief coordination and specialized equipment support.

F. Institutional Arrangements

- HWCRCMCC: Establishing a Landscape-level Human-Wildlife Conflict Reduction & Mitigation Coordination Committee to serve as an integrated stakeholder decision-making body for resource allocation.
- Knowledge Management Centre: Building a data hub staffed with specialists (ecologists, sociologists, economists) to monitor wildlife movements, evaluate conflict trends via tech (drones, camera traps), and document best practices.

G. Finance

- Financial Outlay: A comprehensive 4 year budget plan detailing the distinct short-term capital needs and long-term funding required to make the mitigation efforts sustainable.

4. Consolidated Financial Outlay for HWC Reduction and Mitigation in the State

The total estimated financial outlay proposed for implementing the Human-Wildlife Conflict Reduction and Mitigation Plan across the 14 identified landscapes in the State is ₹1,040 crore, comprising ₹724.67 crore for landscape-level interventions and ₹314.80 crore for State-level interventions. The proposed outlay covers the various mitigation measures and interventions envisaged under the landscape-based conflict management framework, as detailed in Tables 1 and 2.
